According to me, the article's structure needs major revisions.

1. Abstract: the introductory part of the abstract is too long. Moreover, data on the methodology of the research and on the results are missing
2. Introduction: part of the introduction contains specific references to the case study that according to me should be in the methodology
3. Absence of a methodological chapter with the applied research framework, including the specific research steps such as how the data analysis process has been conducted
4. Absence of a specific section for Results and Discussion of them
5. Conclusions should be more complete. I will divide them into theoretical, managerial implications, limitations and future research directions by further developing the current content
