

Review of: "COVID-19: Health risk factors among students' population in Albania"

Felice Curcio¹

¹ University of Sassari

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The study is interesting, but the statistical analysis is very elementary. Furthermore, it has several aspects that need clarification:

1. More details are needed in the methods section, including details of the questionnaire and the methods used for data collection and analysis, time interval during which the questionnaire was administered.
2. Significant results should be presented together with the P-value
3. The limitations of the study were not commented
4. Verify the use of the English language (There are grammatical errors.