

Review of: "Analysis of Factors Influencing Health and Safety Programme in Selected Electricity Distribution Companies"

Jean Elia¹

¹ Lebanese University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- The abstract skillfully provides a comprehensive overview of the research, encapsulating a precise delineation of research objectives, a detailed methodology, key findings, and their potential implications.
- While the introduction adeptly introduces the topic and outlines the research objectives, enhancing it by incorporating the significance of the study and emphasizing the existing research gap would fortify its impact. Additionally, the explicit inclusion of research questions would serve to furnish a clearer roadmap for readers.
- The literature review is laudably thorough, encompassing both theoretical and empirical perspectives, thereby contributing significantly to a well-rounded understanding of the subject.
- Although the methodology is well-presented, a more detailed exposition could elevate clarity. Incorporating information on the philosophical underpinnings, research approach, methodological choices, time horizon, and data analysis tools would offer readers a more comprehensive understanding, extending beyond the elucidation of the research strategy and sampling method.
- The findings are presented with lucidity and organization, facilitating easy comprehension for readers.
- The discussion of the findings stands out notably, not only analyzing the results but also drawing insightful comparisons with relevant previous studies, thereby adding depth and context to the interpretation.
- To fortify the conclusion, it would be beneficial to incorporate a discussion on the limitations of the study, providing a more nuanced understanding of the research's scope and potential constraints.
- The conclusion could be further enriched by explicitly including the implications and contributions of the study, offering readers a clearer understanding of the broader significance and relevance of the research findings.