It's my pleasure to review this interesting article. I have read this article carefully and would like to thank the authors for data collection, analysis, and interpretation of the results very clearly. However, some minor comments are given as:

1. The article needs some minor corrections such as (i) in the methodology, please write a bit about the arid environment, (ii) in the discussions section, please delete the reference on Table(s) from the last line in the first paragraph on page 10 (Table 1), from page 11 (Table 2), from page 12 (Tables 3, 4), and from page 13 (Tables 5, 6). (iii) On page 11, please provide references in the first line of the second paragraph, "Extensive research has shown that various — in sheep productivity", (iv) on page 12, the last paragraph - its results - rephrasing it.
2. For referencing, please follow the same style (for example, in Ref. 8, the journal name is in abbreviated form, and in others, it's in full form) and reduce the references by deleting the older ones (for example, Ref. 12, Epstein 1985, Ref. 36, Assan and Makuza, 2005, Ref. 38, Elssa et al., 2013, etc.).
