Although, the study makes a contribution to the subject it seems incomplete. It need more details on Chinhoyi Caves Heritage Site, Zimbabwe (e.g. a map, the study context, heritage importance, etc.). Methods: it is a qualitative study; the author not insert the time of analysis, and there are basic details which should be included give the study greater credibility (e.g. kind of tourists?); why ATLAS.ti 8? There are a number of advantages of using this approach or not? Discussion and conclusion: there is little real discussion and therefore the conclusions of the findings in relation to past work remained incomplete.

The paper lack of an "added value". In addition it need of a table of summary on themes of tourists' activities and their Impacts emerged.
