

Review of: "Sacred Plants and Their Miraculous or Healing Properties"

Nélida Soria

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Very interesting review. To improve it, you should consider:

In the introduction, you should add the references on which you based the statements you make.

When you cite a species for the first time in the text, you must add the name of the author of the species.

Not all figures have captions; check.

Check phrases like "recent Bravo studies (1967)," which are no longer recent.