Potential competing interests: 1. Rewriting of Abstract with appropriate objectives and simple English to help the readers. 2. There is a need for a para on Research gaps and how to approach the issues. 3. Reorganizing the contents in a proper manner.

1. Abstract has to be rewritten with clear objectives using simple language.
2. Research gap may be provided under a separate subheading. This will help the potential research scholar to work on it.
3. The entire literature review part can be split into different subheadings focusing on different aspects of saltwater intrusion to appreciate the work executed by the earlier researchers and to appreciate their contribution.
