The study is very interesting. However, there are number of aspects to be taken into consideration.

First of all, the English language proofreading is necessary.

There are mistakes in the formatting of literature citation.

Besides, some interesting publications on the topic are missing. So, it seems that systematic and comprehensive literature review is not done despite the fact that the methodology of this study is SLR.

Therefore, please describe the methodology in more details. Additional graphs and/tables will be highly appreciated.

Conclusion is missing!
