Dear authors,

I was pleased to review your article and have the following comments:

First of all, the aim of the article should be explained in the introduction section.

The methodology is unclear: please explain the questionnaire used. If there were patients without informed consent, it is a major ethical issue.

Please explain the novelty and the new information that your study brings to the literature.

The limitations of your study are very important to be mentioned.

English and punctuation edits are necessary.
