

Review of: "Non-revenue Water Reduction"

Abstract needs to be in one paragraph. Literature review is missing, and straight away the implementation part is being written. In Fig. 2., analysis of data and linking to different departments, the text can be replaced with black color font so it is clearly visible. The rest of the content is fine, and the conclusion has to be in paragraph form.

The reference section can still be improvised by adding some more references, and no citations can be found anywhere. All the oldest papers are included in the references; hence, include at least a few latest papers from the year 2020 onwards.

It is more of a comprehensive content piece.
