Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1-) You can give more information in the new method part of the abstract. It should highlight the novelty of the study with one sentence.

2-) You should say most protocols on this topic. It sounds like all study protocols are not complete.

This means that most protocols have confounding effects that must be considered when designing experiments.

3-) You can support it with references.

Many laboratories are already using novel objects to induce wakefulness, but the lack of standardization leads to poor reproducibility.

4-) You can improve figure quality. It's hard to read the text.
