In the abstract section, it is not in accordance with IMRD provisions.

In the introduction, the size of the research problem has not been described, the research objectives have not been stated, and the research design used is also not presented in the abstract.

The research results do not describe anything new or impactful. Even if the data is only from theory, it is better if the depth of the theory is presented in more detail.

There is no discussion explaining the reasons for the research results.
