1. abstract: there needs to be clarity about the focus and purpose of this research; or problems that occur so that it is necessary to study it.
2. Introduction: it seems that there is a need for an additional explanation regarding facility management based on the results of studies by researchers in developing countries as a comparison regarding the focus of the issues raised
3. Methodology: an explanation of the steps in this approach needs to follow ethics or procedures that are generally often carried out in a study using quantitative methods, such as reasons related to the use of the technique applied, samples, formulas used, hypotheses, and immediately.
4. Results: it is recommended to complete the contents of this section regarding the research questions that are the focus of this study
5. Conclusion: it is suggested that the writer can still explore based on the findings and discussion of points that can be determined and applied to similar situations.
