Generalized Competing Event Model for Cancer Risk

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Generalized Competing Event Model for Cancer Risk. NCI Thesaurus. Code C137799.

A stratification method that can be used to identify groups of patients at highest risk for a poor outcome and therefore most likely to benefit from treatment intensification.