

Review of: "An Analysis of Pharmaceutical Inventory Management at a Leading Teaching and Referral Hospital in Kenya"

Dipak Duggal¹

¹ Becton, Dickinson and Company (BD)

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Thanks for sending this paper to me for review .It is well researched and written with insightful use of the data sources . It presents a financially based audit of pharmaceutical expenditure according to category which will certainly be of interest once published. Perhaps one suggestion for taking the discussion a step further would be to absver the "so what"?" question. Whilst there is mention of targeting procurement control as a means of cost control this could be taken forward by discussing the emerging role of digital systems and technologies as a means to control.

Congratulations to the authors on completing this large and lengthy study over the 4 year time period.

Dipak Duggal RPharm. MBA. Medical Affairs Director.