- I will suggest that the author define the study gap and objectives of your work a little bit more clearly.
- Please check the Table 1 information and the way of its presentation. I think it is incomplete. If you are mentioning the numbers of cattle in the years 2012 and 2019, try to present them side by side; it will be easier for the readers to get the information.
- Most of the section's authors stated the information comparing the two states; there, please try to give some possible reasons that could contribute to the variation.
- In the conclusion and future statistics section, the author mentioned the possible ways to mitigate the challenges, which were really good, but along with that, I will suggest to provide some suggestions from the findings of the comparative analysis of the two states.
