The authors have highlighted an interesting topic. I would suggest:

1. Refining the abstract so that it clearly reflects what the paper is about.
2. Using full forms for abbreviations like CINVESTAV.
3. Although it was interesting to see the role of Ezetimibe, Metformin and Statins in combatting Dengue. However, it would have been meaningful to cite some studies, if available, that report and support the beneficial effects of using these medications during the active phase of the disease.
