

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Corticosteroid-binding globulin deficiency

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Corticosteroid-binding globulin deficiency. ORPHA:199247

Corticosteroid-binding globulin deficiency is a rare, genetic, adrenal disease characterized by diminished corticosteroid-binding capacity associated with normal or low plasma corticosteroid-binding globulin concentration and reduced total plasma cortisol levels. Patients typically present chronic pain, fatigue and hypo/hypertension.