Qeios

Peer Review

Review of: "Nutritional Care in Paediatric Oncology: A Narrative Review of Current Guidance and a Conceptual Multidisciplinary Framework"

Ulker Kocak[1]

1. Gazi University Ankara, Turkey

Nutrition has paramount importance in pediatric oncology, of which the practice differs widely. This manuscript tries to review systematically the practices in malignant and transplanted patients. However, it could be shortened beginning from the “3. Existing guidelines, consensus statements, and key reviews in paediatric oncology nutrition” and summarised in Table 1. Information under “4. Cross-cutting limitations of current paediatric oncology nutrition guidance” could also be shortened and summarised in a Table.

Declarations

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

doi.org/10.32388/4EYRD3