

Review of: "Creative Learning of Computer Science of Computer Science Professionals: Case University of Matanzas"

Monica Giuliano¹

¹ Universidad Nacional de La Matanza

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The analysis is very comprehensive and interesting—congratulations.

Not all tables are referenced in the text; this should be revised. It is suggested to reduce the number of tables.

In tables 19 and 26, only the rows that correspond according to the equality of variances should be left.

There are very short paragraphs that could be merged and also reiterative sentences. It is recommended that the wording and verb tenses be revised.

There are acronyms that are not defined, e.g., ACI, I21, ED.

It is recommended to synthesize the results and carry out a more global analysis.