Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Whilst the title was fantastic, it was missing some crucial information.

1. About the introduction: You must base your work on the research's title, and the problem statement should make obvious the key issues that influence it.
2. Start Chapter 2 with a notion and a few definitions related to your title.
3. Use a decent diagram on the model for the conceptual framework,
4. Try to apply model diagnosis as well.
5. The results 4.2 and 4.3 are identical.
6. Try using a bound test to determine the long-term relationship of your variable rather than a cointegration test to do so.

I appreciate it.
