

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Primary cutaneous peripheral T-cell lymphoma not otherwise specified

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Primary cutaneous peripheral T-cell lymphoma not otherwise specified. ORPHA:86885

An extremely rare, primary cutaneous T-cell lymphoma disorder characterized by solitary, or multifocal and diffuse, cutaneous lesions, ranging from tumor-like patches, plaques, papules, nodules, and/or erythroderma, located on any area of the body, which rapidly progress and may become ulcerated and/or infected. Systemic involvement may be associated.