

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Desmoplastic small round cell tumor

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Desmoplastic small round cell tumor. ORPHA:83469

Desmoplastic small round cell tumor (DSRCT) is an aggressive soft tissue cancer that typically arises in serous lined surfaces of the abdominal or pelvic peritoneum, and spreads to the omentum, lymph nodes and hematogenously disseminates especially to the liver. Extraserous primary location has been reported in exceptional cases.