Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This review provides general and interesting information on the potential benefits and uses of coconut flower and harvesting system. Comments raised by the other reviewer, are all very valid and should be considered while revising the review once again for resubmission before its acceptance.

I suggest to be consistent with terms used in the paper in order to facilitate the readability

Considering the results presented I will suggest to conclude the paper with short sentence on next steps needed to foster the value chain of coconut nectar
