

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Myelodysplastic Syndrome with Single Lineage Dysplasia

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Myelodysplastic Syndrome with Single Lineage Dysplasia. NCI Thesaurus. Code C82591.

A myelodysplastic syndrome characterized by dysplastic changes involving only one myeloid cell lineage in the bone marrow. It primarily affects older adults and includes refractory anemia, refractory neutropenia, and refractory thrombocytopenia.