Dear Omar Mahasneh

I enjoyed your way of looking at the issue of students' career attitudes. I was interested in the integration of the three approaches (philosophies) of Islam, Greek, and Chinese, but the Islamic approach has the ability to present a theory on its own. Of course, theory building has steps that I did not see in the methodology. I did not understand your data and how you analyzed, deduced, and reasoned to reach the theory.

I hope my comments have helped you.

Your brother,

Javad Pourkrimi
