

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Congenital dyserythropoietic anemia type III

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Congenital dyserythropoietic anemia type III. ORPHA:98870

Congenital dyserythropoietic anemia type III (CDA III) is a rare form of CDA (see this term) characterized by dyserythropoiesis, with big multinucleated erythroblasts in the bone marrow, and manifesting with mild to moderate anemia.