I would really appreciate it if the authors could underline their basic contribution with respect to the articles Ekici ŞÖ, Kabak Ö, Ülengin F (2019). "Improving logistics performance by reforming the pillars of Global Competitiveness Index." Transport Policy. 81: 197-207.

- Can you specify how the authors' contribution differs from or builds upon the work by Ekici et al.?
- What specific aspects of the methodology or findings should be highlighted to emphasize the authors' unique contributions?
- Could you provide examples of how the methodologies used in this study offer new insights or advantages over those used by Ekici et al.?
- What are the key policy implications that this study offers which were not addressed in the work by Ekici et al.?
- How does the use of TAN-BN and PLS-SEM contribute to understanding the interactions compared to Ekici et al.?
- Can you elaborate on the indirect relationship between higher education and logistics performance and its implications for policy?
