Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Section 2.2 is very succinct. It needs to be expanded extensively and concatenated. You provide a list of ideas as is.
2. Throughout the document, it appears you provide your point of view. It is strongly suggested that the document portrays a neutral position. Depicting the literature of other and not your opinion.
3. H1, H2, H3, H4, H5 and H6 do not mention the quantitative variables. Also, all hypothesis are rather discernible verging on obvious. It is strongly suggested to reframe all hypothesis to make a real contribution.
4. Your study is based on surveys and questionnaires, these are just opinions of third parties. The quantitative approach must come from hard data depicting what you would like to measure in the hypothesis. Concordantly, the whole section 3,4,5,6 must be done again from scratch.
