Review of "Strengths-Based Development"

Franz Plochberger

Your definition is very high leveled. So it may have a week value of content.

Before you use a Development System you should know your development goals. Main goals are knowledge of involved persons, of repeating-time of system, based on amount of data or wideness of research network for Big Data.

In a second step of developing you should be able to manage this instrument - especially for testing your first and finally results.

If you know what you want you can search it easy - the other way is making IT-system development too complex.
