

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Scanning Transmission Electron Microscopy

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Scanning Transmission Electron Microscopy. NCI Thesaurus. Code C21342.

An electron microscopic technique for producing images of a surface by scanning an electron beam over the sample and measuring the electronic interactions at the interface. This technique provides highly magnified images of surface morphology.