Review of: "New Method to Identify Potential Illegal Water Use Location by Using Remote Sensing and Neural Networks in Laguna de Aculeo, Chile"

Ahmed Al-lami[1]

1 Al Nahrain University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is well organized with full details about the problems that resulted from illegal use of water during the dry season. I think the study area needs to be clearer through showing a map with full information about the population. The article needs to show some details about the achieved goals and how this work gives evidence to support the government in this matter.