

Review of: "Religiocentric Expression, Intolerance, and Conflict between Majority and Minority Ethnic Groups in Bangladesh"

Ratno Lukito

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Article has explained a very good result of the research on religiocentric expression, with its relation to intolerance and conflict between majority and minority groups in Bangladesh. The research is good except in the fact that his model of writing conveys much of the research with the minim explanation of its result. It is good therefore to expand more the result of the research in the Discussion which can better proliferate the main result of the research.