

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Neonatal Hyperbilirubinemia

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Neonatal Hyperbilirubinemia. NCI Thesaurus. Code C99235.

Increased levels of bilirubin in the blood during the neonatal period. In the majority of cases it is seen in the first week of life and usually there is no underlying disease, however, it may also occur in hemolytic diseases, infections, metabolic disorders, and liver abnormalities.