The theme proposed is interesting.

The writing is clear and concise.

The ideas flow logically one after the other.

I have some recommendations:

- Pay attention to some mistakes: for example, table no. 2 should be "statistics" not "satatstics"
- in the conclusion section you should add a paragraph describing the limitations of your study.
- in the introduction section you should explain which is the value added of your study. what your study brings new to the literature? Who can benefit from the results you obtain?
