Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The Background did not well explain the relevant research background and scientific problems faced all over the world.
2. You can carry out comparative analysis on the experimental results in combination with previous research results of other scientists in the Discussion section.
3. In terms of correct style of chapter headings/ references/ tables/ figure /units /decimals which are occasionally wrong formatted the authors can consult: journal recommendations for authors.
4. Please add the specific problems and challenges of the findings (or what should be done in future) in the conclusion.
