

Review of: "Innovative Financial Services and Commercial Banks' Profitability in Africa"

Haneen A. Al-Khawaja¹

¹ Amman Arab University for Higher Studies

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript Innovative Financial Services and Commercial Banks' Profitability in Africa, submitted to Qeios, needs to be revised slightly.

The author must take a close look at the manuscript requirements. Therefore, we ask the authors to make every effort to meet the requirements as following:

The abstract has well-structured and shows all the essential points of your manuscript.

The Introduction should be devoted to the relevance of the research topic and the formulation of the problem in general

The Conclusion section should be have the relation between other studies for same framework,

Adding the recommendation of the study in the final.

Proof reading for whole paper.