

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base. Chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy. ORPHA:2932

Chronic inflammatory demyelinating polyneuropathy (CIDP) is a chronic monophasic, progressive or relapsing symmetric sensorimotor disorder characterized by progressive muscular weakness with impaired sensation, absent or diminished tendon reflexes and elevated cerebrospinal fluid (CSF) proteins.