

Review of: "Examining Water Use and Sanitation Practices in Rural Schools of Chegutu District, Mashonaland West Province, Zimbabwe"

Tanvir Ahmed¹

¹ Bangladesh University of Engineering and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript reads more like a technical report summarizing the WASH situation in a very local context. National level WASH statistics are available from the JMP database and it is unclear what this manuscript adds to that database. The motivation of this study is not built on specific literature (mostly generic literature is cited). In order for this to be considered for a scientific publication, the novelty of this study needs to be determined. In its current form, it cannot be considered more than a technical report.