Dear Editor/Author,

After reviewing the research paper, I suggest that the article needs a major review and should be based on theoretical grounding.

There is a need to improve the overall academic style of writing for the research paper. There is the use of "We" and "Us" in the research which is not the recommended approach. The research problem need to be well motivated with facts and some references.

Referencing

Overall the research paper lacks references. The research paper seem to lack authoritative sources and also the writing style is poor.

Methodology

There is no dedicated section on methodology. The authors have to explain the approaches used with appropriate justifications.

Discussions

There is need for discussion especially with the results to make the research meaningful with appropriate policy implications - using appropriate references.

It is recommended to have a section on Policy implications so that readers may get to understand the impact of the study
