

Review of: "From Psychostasis to the Discovery of Cardiac Nerves: The Origins of the Modern Cardiac Neuromodulation Concept"

Elham Akhtari¹

¹ Iran University of Medical Sciences

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear editor Thanks for requesting the article review Maktala is very interesting, it had a good introduction and a correct discussion, the name of Ibn Nafis and Bu Ali Sina was empty in the discussion. In Iranian medicine, the heart is the seat of fear and thought, as well as in Chinese medicine In fact, in most of the traditional medical sources, the place of the heart, perception and feeling are expressed together, and it is better to mention the names of other traditional medicine scientists. Overall, I really enjoyed reading the article. With respect Dr. Akhtar