

Review of: "“We Only Came Home to Find His Body Dangling”: Voices and Practs in Selected Nigerian Newspapers Reportage on Suicide"

Somtochukwu Victor Okeke¹

¹ University of Nigeria

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The study is a timely one in this era of depression in Nigeria which usually leads to suicide. However, i have the following comments to make:

1. The three newspapers should reflect the three major regions in the country which are the North, South and West to capture a comprehensive study of the country since your study covers the country. A newspaper domiciled and predominantly read in each of the three regions should be used.
2. Separate your statement of problem from the literature review. Your statement of problem should be embedded in your introduction just before your objectives.
3. Lastly, your discussion of findings should clearly follow the two objectives you specifically mentioned in your introduction in an organized manner. I found out you did a recommendation under your discussion of findings. Please, that section is not suitable for recommendations. In your discussion of findings, you set out to agree or disagree with other studies thereby filling a gap other studies could not fill.