Thank you for your effort in sharing and publishing your research work. However, there are several comments that need further improvements.

1. Extensive editing of English language and style is required.
2. The originality of this article is very low (80% plagiarism detected). Out of 80%, 76% is from the Qeios website (might be a technical error). Kindly check with the publisher person in charge.
3. Contribution to the scholarship is low. Theoretical/research gap is unclear. Kindly include research gaps/limitations of previous studies.
4. The quality of structure and clarity is average. Kindly determine the main variables, use the same variable names throughout your article, including the title of your article. Write your points in sentences followed by elaborations and evidence to prove academic soundness.
5. For empirical research, the results are not clearly interpreted/elaborated.
6. Arguments and discussions of findings are not thoroughly supported.
