

Review of: "Exploring the Factors Aggravating Disease Transmission in Healthcare Environments: Strategies for Mitigation"

Ali Salman B. Thani<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> University of Bahrain

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The necessity of managing different infections to make healthcare settings safer is being examined in the current manuscript "Exploring the Factors Aggravating Disease Transmission in Healthcare Environments: Strategies for Mitigation." The manuscript's focus is expanding the field of infection control. The authors should, however, address the following matters: please provide percentages for the factors and indicators that were examined, as well as address the current protocols and standards that various institutions are using.