Appendix Traditional Serrated Adenoma

National Cancer Institute

Source

An adenoma that arises from the appendix. It is characterized by prominent serration of the glands and the presence of generalized low-grade dysplasia.