

Review of: "The Role of Women's Business Performance in Promoting Sustainable Development"

Enver Krasniqi¹

¹ University for Business and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

At first, thank you for the opportunity to review this paper such interesting due the topic and the focus. However, for this research I have some comments that should be overcome before publishing.

- The research should be oriented in businesses not only about activity field but also regarding to business ownership and firm size!
- The Literature review can be added with same cases in emerging countries!
- Explain how is composed and measured the business performance variable?