

Review of: "Determinants of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) Sustainable Development in Africa"

Svetlana Mihaila¹

¹ Academy of Economic Studies of Moldova

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The researched topic is one of interest, given originality and the number of entities analyzed by 450 companies. Another point to appreciate is that the research covers a wide area of study, 54 regions in Africa.

In order to increase the quality of the research, it is recommended to review the abstract with an emphasis on the Purpose, objectives, methodology, the researched problem.

The same applies to the Introduction section, where the research problem, originality and importance of the research must be outlined.

In the Conclusions section, the author's support should be emphasized.