

Review of: "Enhancing Veterinary Services for Smallholder Farmers in Zimbabwe: A Comprehensive Literature Review"

Giuseppe Bertoni¹

¹ Catholic University of the Sacred Heart

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The paper seems of interest and I agree that animal health is of primary importance for the improvement of Smallholder animal production farms, but Veterinary service cannot be enough if the farmers are not able to pay the service and the required drugs (as suggested by the authors). Therefore it must be completed speaking about the possibility (in short) of agricultural and socio-economical aspects: feed production and utilization, genetic improvement, Self Help Groups organization etc. which could allow a better yield and income to pay the veterinary service etc.