Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Even the authors address an important and relevant topic, and have some interesting ideas, they loose the track during the manuscript. The red line is missing, the model is not described, how the approach fits with that key issues given in figure 1 is not explained. I recommend to identify some clear research questions, and to follow up them clearly in the manuscript. I see a substantial potential in the mentioned approach, however, it must be applied in a structured and clear way.
