I have had an opportunity to review this paper. The paper discusses a very interesting and important topic. However, the paper needs MAJOR REVISION before publication. Please check my suggestions and comments below.

1. The paper needs careful copyediting. Please look for assistance of a Native English speaker. Some sentences are extremely long, please break them into smaller sentences.
- Please re-write your abstract and conclusion, and make them aligned to the problem statement (write in clear manner), and then highlight your contributions on how you are addressing the limitations found in the previous studies.
- Data Collection. Please mention the time frame and any specific reasons of recruiting very small number of participants? How did you ensure that the participant's personal information are protected? Please provide more statistics on Gender, Race, Education, Age of the participants, etc.
- How did you make sure that there is no information bias in your dataset?
- Please create a new section and provide details analysis of your data.
- Please improve the discussion section and compare (if possible) your results with similar studies, based on some factors. Moreover, please highlight how your study is novel as compared to existing studies? How this study add\contribute to the existing scientific knowledge?
